Art Unit: 2881

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 16 provides for the use of a multi-layer internet structure, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claims 1-15, 17, and 18 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

While sheets of insulating material including embedded layers of conductive tracks are known in the art, there is no teaching in the prior art to use such a sheet as an electrical feed-through structure by providing a vacuum seal that separates first and second portions of the sheet and permits evacuation of a first volume in contact with the first portion while a second volume in contact with the second portion is maintained at higher pressure.
